UNO A CAMERA

Venice, Murano, the famous island of glass.

Strategically placed, maybe the best location in town, between the old gardens of an ancient gothic venetian building, 5th century walls and old glass furnaces of the fifties, here's a great urban regeneration example: the conversion of a former industrial site in hotel.

An expert mix between tradition and modernity where history blends into our days by creating a timeless atmosphere.

A peaceful oasis far from the crowded city bustle, to relax yourself after a hard day in Venice;

Belle epoque atmospheres alternating with design details and venetian tradition create a path expressly made for the guests well-being.

Moreover: concern for the enviroment is the focus around which the all project was born and developed, with sharp eyes to renewable energies.
